

Discover the Benefits of Whole Grains

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans recommends “making half your grains whole” every day.

The fiber in whole grains helps keep your digestive system healthy. Additionally, consuming at least 3 servings of whole grains every day can help reduce the risk of chronic disease such as heart disease, cancer and diabetes. These grains also help control insulin levels and aid in weight management.

nourish. flourish. inspire.